MPOWR
 THE PATH OUT OF POVERTY

With MPOWR you'll have more time for what matters.

Coordinated personalized plan management and delivery of services significantly enhances communication within the human service sector. Those being helped are able to considerably decrease "agency time," eliminating much of the need to go from place to place telling the same story—and often receiving duplicate services or, even worse, contradictory plans.

People, not paperwork

Bridges Out of Poverty and Community Collaboration and Integration (CCI) are proud to present CCI's new web-based plan-management program, called MPOWR. This program allows all community-based organizations to work together on coordinated, common plans to provide needed services that address individual, family, and community needs. This program allows all governmental, social-service, faith-based, and private community organizations to work together with the participants who are receiving services in their community's human service delivery system.

Collaborate to empower

Plan management has never been so easy and efficient

The special Bridges Out of Poverty Edition combines the power of CCI's 15 areas of life with the Bridges' 11 resources in the Getting Ahead program. Progress is monitored on the 11 resources as the changes made by individuals, institutions, and the community are recorded and periodically evaluated.

There is a discounted rate especially for Bridges Out of Poverty communities!
